

Bugging out with 4-H!

Entomology Project Day

Saturday, October 25 10am to approx. 12pm

Mountrail Co. South Complex 8103 61st St NW, Stanley

During this project day you will explore the captivating world of insect collections! This hands-on activity is designed to spark scientific curiosity and teach the essential skills of collecting, preserving, and presenting insect specimens like seasoned entomologists.

What will I learn?

- 1) Collection Techniques
- 2) Preservation Methods
- 3) Specimen Arrangement & Labeling

Whether you're fascinated by beetles, butterflies, or bugs of all kinds, this workshop is your gateway to understanding the tiny creatures that shape our ecosystems.
